

Pete Zoretic

Pete Zoretic grew up in Columbus, Ohio and attended Grandview Heights High School. He attended The Ohio State University studying Aviation Management and went on to earn a commission in the United States Marine Corps. Pete retired from the Corps and flew commercially before his full retirement. He now lives in Columbus with his wife.